.Roxbury, (Mass.). Says the winter has been unusually severe. Has been having trouble with inflammation in his right eye. Thinks he may be suffering from a fistula, and is debilitated by the state of his kidneys, "tending to a bad case of diabetes." Mrs. G.'s paralysis has prevented him from getting an unbroken night's sleep for years. For the above reasons, he doubts if he would have the strength or energy to write his autobiography. Ellen Dow is being replaced by Mrs. Kindle as a companion for Mrs. G. Tells what he expects of Mrs. K.

To Elizabeth (Pease) Nichol No.25

«Roxbury, (Mass.)» Says he should have written to Mrs. N. sooner. Reminisces about his visit to the addressee's home in Edinburgh and regrets the absence of Jane and Eliza Wigham at the time. Tells about Mrs. Woods Lawrence, who knew the Wighams, and her brother, Leonard Woods, a Southern sympathizer during the Civil War. Mentions the death of Mrs. Ritchie, widow of Rev. Dr. Ritchie. Was glad that Mrs. N. received the stereoscopic views of the ruins left by the Boston fire. The winter has been the coldest he has ever known. G. T. and W. L. Garrison Jr. lost their property in the fire. W.L.G. has been in poor he[illegible]. Tells about the H. Villards. H. V. is troubled with "d[illegible]sting noises in his head." Thanks Mrs. N. for a copy of the Life and Writings of Mazzini and Medical Women, by Miss Jex-Blake.

«Boston» Title: Mr. Sumner and the Legislature. Referring to a letter of Wendell Phillips, W.L.G. says that he agrees with W. P.'s praise of Sumner's public services, but challenges W. P.'s claim that Sumner is "above censure." Disputes W. P.'s claim that S. often lacked the support of his constituents. W. P. is wrong in saying that S. was among the first of the Abolitionists and compares the records of Sen. Henry Wilson and S. Quotes remarks made by W. P. about S. in years past. W.L.G. argues in favor of allowing the names of battles to remain on the flag. Refutes W. P. arguments.

	To Helen Frances (Garrison) Villard	No.33

«Roxbury, (Mass.)» Is pleased to hear that Fanny is going to the Vienna Exposition. Hopes that she will tell the writer how it compares with the Paris Exposition in 1867. Discusses the last photograph of Harold Villard he received. "There is still great stringency in the money market, all the result of a panic ..." Tells Fanny not to let her German friends be deceived by the evidence of corruption in the government. A.L.s. 3 p. 8 x 5 1/8 in.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

[New York] The writer does not intend to write a history of the abolition movement, but his own recollections of the first few years, "with a view to setting in a clear light the leadership of Garrison." Does not expect to cover more than the first ten or twelve years. Taking an apologetic attitude toward his own undertaking, the writer is disappointed that he could not persuade Garrison to write a series of autobiographical sketches. "(Edmund) Quincy ought to write the history. He is a writer of marvelous skill, and he understands both the facts and the philosophy of the movement."

«Boston» Declines an invitation to attend the dedication of "Cosmian Hall" in Florence, Mass. Argues against the infallibility of the Pope and the Bible and in favor of religious dissent. "In order that Protestantism may stimulate to the boldest utterance and sturdiest non-conformity, whereby all possible mental and moral growth may be a resultance, there is yet a vast amount of Romanism to be eliminated from it." «Roxbury, (Mass.)» Thinks that H. F. (G.) V. and her family should wait until May before crossing the Atlantic. A stormy passage may be hard on the children. Considers it risky to bring with her an inexperienced German servant girl, who doesn't speak English. Cautions H. F. (G.) V. against "buying dutiable articles for presentation to relations and friends." Had a photograph taken of himself at a studio, "where spirit impressions appear upon the negative, in addition to the face of the sitter." The likeness of Charles Sumner appeared on his portrait. «Roxbury, (Mass.)» Was unable to use the invalid's chair he bought for Mrs. G., so he sends it to J. M. McKim. W.L.G. is not sure he can make the trip to New York. Was much pleased by the hopefulness expressed in J. M. M.'s last letter. H. Villard is in Chicago. W.L.G. doubts if he "will be able to accomplish anything in conserving the interests of those German bankers and capitalists who have invested so largely in Western railroad stock ..." Mentions a visit by Mr. & Mrs. Wright of Auburn, N.Y. Joseph May, a son of S. J. May, preached an excellent sermon in Doctor Putnam's church. «Boston» "Accept my thanks for your volume entitled 'Recollections and Experiences of an Abolitionist.'" Hopes that A. M. R. will send a copy of his book to the Librarian of Cornell University. Refers to A. M. R.'s efforts in behalf of fugitive slaves. Objects to passages in A. M. R.'s book in which he quotes John Brown's derogatory remarks about the Northern Abolitionists. Claims that the Garrisonian plan for the overthrow of Slavery by moral and spiritual means was better than Brown's doctrine of force and servile insurrection.

	To George Whittemore Stacy	No.78

«Roxbury, (Mass.)» Likens the Boston riot of Oct.21,1835 to the mobbing of St. Paul at Ephesus by the silver workers of the temple of Diana, and claims tha the Boston riot "was a bid for Southern trade on the part of the Boston merchants, manufacturers and traders ..." Doesn't favor the formation of a political party devoted primarily to the furtherance of Temperance. Says that most of the advocates of Temperance are Republicans.
